Once upon a time, there was a squirrel who wondered around in a strange platform. Suddenly, he discovers a large pillar, and on top of it was an acorn. Certainly the squirrel is happy about his discovery and starts to plan how he will get it. Well, he decides to climb the pillar to get the ball, but suddenly he falls down. the squirrel is very distressed about his failure to get the acorn. However, he gets up and goes backwards. Then, with all of his energy, he rushes forward toward the pillar. The pillar falls down and the acorn falls also. But with quick reaction, the squirrel catches the acorn and retrieves back to celebrate. THE END
